Takuma's response to Quad bike instructors invitation to ask a question about his briefing - 'Is that the M5?'

Peewits disaster put custard powder in the Sweet and Sour; saved by Culinary rescue disaster team.

Frankie and Ben appear to have developed a love hate relationship - hope it doesn't affect their ice cream making. Many stories about the 'Poo pit' chronicles. Ask Izzy.

James did cutlery juggling and somehow flicked custard in Tia's face.

Alfie is experimenting for MasterChef with a cocktail of sweet and sour sauce with custard added.

Camp Romances are blooming in the countryside too many to mention, but you know who you are! D & D & M.

Jo asked a posh couple if the hikers could share the log that they were sitting on; the couple declined sharing accommodation and left offended that they had even been spoken to.

Although Olly Dowling was too young to go on a large quad bike he was nevertheless appeased when an attractive assistant sat behind 'supervising'. Many Quad riders had facial mud packs. But at No extra charge.

Dave, Rich and Tank complained about soggy bottoms on pre-cooked apple pies. Told to speak to Mary B. Dave has done 40 summer camps, that's why he looks so haggard then.

Wayne hiked in zip up wellies after Gary sprayed the zips with bike lubricant; and after waking up on the tram that the hike was a 'good workout'.

Louise overslept and we nearly didn't have any porridge; first it was too runny then it was just right. 3 bears!

Did you Know?

Lyme Regis is a coastal town in West Dorset, situated 25 miles (40 km) west of Dorchester and 25 miles (40 km) east of Exeter. The town lies in Lyme Bay, on the English Channel coast at the Dorset-Devon border. It is nicknamed "The Pearl of Dorset." The town is noted for the fossils found in the cliffs and beaches, which are part of the Heritage Coast—known commercially as the Jurassic Coast—a World Heritage Site.

The harbour wall, known as "The Cobb", features in Jane Austen's novel Persuasion, and in The French Lieutenant's Woman, a novel by British writer John Fowles, as well as the 1981 film of the same name, which was partly filmed in Lyme Regis.

In Saxon times, the abbots of Sherborne Abbey had salt-boiling rights on land adjacent to the River Lym, and the abbey once owned part of the town. Lyme is mentioned in the Domesday Book of 1086. In the 13th century, it developed as one of the major British ports. A Royal Charter was granted by King Edward I in 1284 when 'Regis' was added to the town's name. The charter was confirmed by Queen Elizabeth I in 1591.

On New Year's Day, 1915, the H.M.S. Formidable was torpedoed, the first major U-boat loss of World War I. A local lifeboat delivered bodies to the Pilot Boat Inn on Bridge Street. Lassie, the dog of the Inn's owner, licked the face of Seaman Cowan, believed dead, and seemingly aroused him back to life. The namesake of the cross-breed became a legend of books, radio, film and television.

Camp Leaders chat

It was a beautiful sunshine day and I think everybody enjoyed doing all their various activities.

Nice to see that the Leaders are working as a great team, especially as Debbie was poorly and could not do her driving duties. Paul B and Louise stepped up to the plate to ensure the Geohikers had transport either end of their hike. In spite of reminders about applying sun tan lotion some people clearly ignored the advice, after-sun cream is available for sufferers.
